Working Together To Make Memphis 1997 Memorable

In an effort to present the collecting public with the best paper money auctions possible, two auction firms will conduct the official sales in conjunction with the 1997 Memphis International Paper Money Show. R. M. Smythe will begin with a short session on Friday evening, June 20th that will run from 7 PM to approximately 9 PM. Smythe will conduct a second session on Saturday evening beginning at 5:30 PM, Lyn Knight will conclude with a third session beginning promptly at 8:30 PM.

This format should insure that each auction company has sufficient time to sell all of the high quality material consigned, and yet be able to finish at a reasonable hour.

Each firm will produce their own catalogues.

Each will be responsible for accepting bids for their own auctions.

Each will register their own bidders.

We welcome your comments, negative or positive, and we hope that all of your bids are successful.

Estimates

We have placed an estimate on almost every lot in this sale, expressed either as a range (for example $1000-$1,500) or with a lower price estimate (for example $500-Up). Where the price range is narrow, we have based it on prices the item may have brought in recent previous auctions or in private transactions. If the range is wide, the item may be new to us, the value of the item may be subject to many unknown factors, or the market may be changing constantly. In all cases, we have used our best professional opinion as to what we feel the lot may realize. These estimates represent our conservative opinion as to what we feel a lot may realize, and we believe that most lots in this sale will bring within the estimate ranges or over the low estimates. Market conditions beyond our knowledge may cause some lots to sell for under the low estimates, or more than the high estimates.

Reserves

Where non-published reserves exist, the auctioneer may make bids in response to others. Consignors are NOT PERMITTED to bid on their own lots from the floor. R.M. Smythe & Co., Inc. has advanced money (where requested) to consignors. R.M. Smythe & Co., Inc. reserves the right to include our own material in this auction as well as to bid on any item in this sale.

Catalogues & References Used

The Criswell "Cr." numbers used in this catalogue appear in the Second Edition Confederate and Southern States Bonds by Grover C. Criswell (Criswell's & Criswell Publications, 1979). The Ball "B-" numbers used in this catalogue will appear in the soon to be published Comprehensive Catalogue and History of Confederate Bonds by Douglas B. Ball, Ph.D. (BNR Press, 1997).

Grading Terminology

Unlike coins and paper money, the grading of stocks and bonds has not developed to the point where everyone agrees on or uses similar standards. The very nature of stocks and bonds defies a grading system based, for example, on wear, or folds.

Instead of trying to develop a strict grading system, we have used terminology designed to convey a strictly subjective impression of the items we endeavor to describe.

Fair - A certificate with extreme handling, fold splitting, stains, samll pieces or tears.

Fine - Slightly below average. Folds may be heavy with splits slightly into the design elements, but with no pieces missing. More severe flaws will be mentioned.

Very Fine (VF) - The average grade of most of the stocks and bonds we encounter. A Very Fine share certificate will have several light to moderate folds, and the paper will show obvious wear or softness. Bonds that were originally folded by the printer may have several additional folds. There may be minor edge roughness, but any splits that extend into the designs will be described. Very light soiling is typical, but heavier stains or foxing will be mentioned.

Very Fine+ (VF+) - Obviously used or worn, but brighter or cleaner than the average example.

John J. Ford, Jr.

John J. Ford, Jr. has long been such a distinguished and sometimes provocative numismatist in this country that there is little that R.M. Smythe can say about him that is not already in the public domain. His wide numismatic expertise, the famous items and collections he has acquired, his abilities as a speaker at forums and as a consulting expert are well known.

John Ford was born in Hollywood, California in 1924, but mainly grew up in the town of Rockville Centre, on Long Island. At the early age of ten he became a collector, and still remembers going with his mother to a Brooklyn hobby shop where he bought his first Confederate item, a $10 note of 1864.

Ford later entered into a relationship with Stack's, where he made a copy of Bradbeer's original book (1915) on Confederate notes and used it to acquire rare varieties from the Stacks' stock. He also went to work for Joe and Morton Stack when he was not attending school.

With the entry of the United States into the Second World War, Ford volunteered for the Army and served mainly as a cryptographer. At the end of the War he returned to the United States, where he spent one year in college, and married his wife Joan, with whom he has shared the last 50 years.

Ford took on a variety of jobs, including another tour with Stack's, and a couple of years with Lever Brothers, where he managed their New York area automobile fleet, buying and disposing of salesmen's cars. After hours he traded coins for various dealers to keep his hand in the numismatic trade. This work brought him into contact with Charles M. Wormser, who had inherited New Netherlands Coin Company from his father, Moritz Wormser, who died in 1940 just before Charles's long tour in the Navy.

Wormser had many virtues, but he was not a numismatist by training or vocation, and he had lost the assistant who ran the shop during his absence. He had good things to sell, but was no salesman, and needed the help of a deal maker. Ultimately, in 1950, Wormser proposed to Ford that he should join New Netherlands. Within two years Ford was made a partner; this relationship of two very different men lasted until the end of 1970.

During the intervening years Ford honed his skills and produced catalogs that became well known for their excellent style and content. Not only did New Netherlands prosper, but so did Ford, who wisely invested his surplus funds in a variety of interesting numismatic properties. It was during this period that he acquired the Confederate half dollar that Jefferson Davis had with him in May 1865 when he was arrested in Georgia. He also picked up the F.C.C. Boyd Colonial and Continental paper money collections and built up a collection of specialized American merchants tokens which could be the basis of many reference works. His most famous purchases involved the four coins that had once made up a set of pieces proposed by Robert Morris as the basis for an American metallic currency. He acquired the lowest denomination by a fluke from a dealer who discovered it in Europe and then bought the other three in the Garrett Sale.

Ford has had the opportunity to handle coins from many famous collections and estates, as well as to personally be acquainted with many distinguished collectors and dealers, including the Norwebs, T. James Clark, members of the Brand family, Fred Boyd, Wayte Raymond, Thomas L. Elder, B. Max Mehl, J.R. Murcel, and Henry Clifford, among others. He knew both Dave Bowers and Harvey Stack when both were in their early teens; he was a close friend of the legendary Homer K. Downing. He was also a key witness in the controversy surrounding the acquisition by the Smithsonian Institution of the famous Eli Lilly Collection. The refusal of his detractors to testify under oath regarding the alleged lack of authenticity of certain items in that collection undoubtedly played an important role in securing the outstanding Lilly holdings for our National Museum.

Early in 1971 Ford retired from New Netherlands to pursue his personal interests and the less pressured life of a consulting expert to institutions with numismatic collections for exhibition as well as collectors. He has written a number of prize winning articles and has continuously been a popular part of the coin convention speakers circuit.

During the 1950's, Ford established a connection with the Chase Manhattan Bank Money Museum as well as with its parent bank, which was answering inquiries from foreign banks about the value, if any, of Confederate bonds. Ford bought quite a number of Confederate bonds via Chase from the European banks at modest prices, and kept for himself, with Wormser's permission, the beginnings of what was to become a large and high grade Confederate bond collection.

With the assistance of Chase, Ford corresponded with the older European banks and so paved the way for the purchase not only of conventional Confederate and Southern State bonds, but also the Erlanger loan bonds and even the cotton warrants. At the same time, he kept his eyes open for better pieces when they turned up in the United States. He continued to add to this collection until the late 1980's, when he moved to Phoenix in order to seek a climate more favorable to his wife's health. This forced him to curtail his buying activities.

Looking to establish a foundation to promote numismatic scholarship and research in honor of F.C.C. Boyd, Ford has decided to sell this collection and devote the proceeds to that purpose. R. M. Smythe & Company is delighted to be given the opportunity to offer this great collection to the general public through this Public and Mail bid auction.

A Note About the Catalogue Numbers Used in This Auction Sale

The readers of this catalogue will note various changes and much additional information about new varieties of bonds. This catalogue was prepared in anticipation of the publication of Douglas Ball's new book on Confederate Bonds, which it was hoped would come out just before the auction in Memphis. Unfortunately, various production problems occurred, some new pieces were discovered, and various useful suggestions for changes were made which the publisher and author both thought were of sufficient importance to justify a postponement of the publication date until October, 1997.

It will be observed that the catalogue listings follow the earlier numbers employed in the Criswell Bond book. The Criswell bond numbers are followed by those which will appear in the Ball Book. Readers will also quickly realize that there are many bonds listed here that are not individually listed in the earlier work. This is because the new Ball bond numbers amount to nearly twice those appearing in the Criswell reference.

There is a great deal of additional information about many of these bonds which will appear in the new Ball book. This information is provided in order that the would-be purchasers may bid with a fuller idea of the rarity and value of what is being offered. Enjoy this offering: there are only four collections today which are in any manner of speaking its equivalent.

One of the two discovery bonds of this type first found in a Charleston, South Carolina dealer's shop back to back in a frame. Grover Criswell traded this piece to John Ford (the better of the two), the other going into the Criswell collection and later the Ball collection, from which it was sold in September 1987. Since that time, the total known has risen to eight pieces, of which this is one of the three best. Note the last coupon which calls for a payment of an impossible sum, $2.662/3.

Act of April 12, 1862

Extraordinary Essai Bond

Act of April 12, 1862 Coupon Bond. $500. (Unlisted, B-148). Unsigned or numbered. Abt VF, with ink bleed through from a back pen endorsement. Complete, with wide margins. ($6000-Up)

This is a fascinating item. It was made by Blanton Duncan's firm and was the original for what became the ultimate $500 bond of this act. While there is no record of why this bond was not used, we may surmise that the resignation of Secretary of War Randolph (bottom left) over a dispute with President Davis, made his appearance on a new bond impolitic. In addition, the bond coupon rows are six, not five coupons wide. It was therefore rejected.

As can be seen, there are pencil notations on the face and a mention in the right margin of Paris etc., pertaining to the Erlanger loan. The ink notation on the back is apparently in the hand of Secretary Memminger. We believe that this was submitted to the government, was used to draft another bond and abandoned for that use, the bond somehow getting out of the Treasury.

Our information is that this bond appeared in a lot of Charles Hamilton's 15th auction catalog of November 3, 1966, lot 42, where it appeared as part of the property of Lucius Ruder. Where it had been before that we do not know. Nonetheless, undoubtedly the Highlight of this collection and possibly worth a low five figure price.

Number 1 Bond

1034 Act of April 12, 1862. $100. (Cr.110, B-146). No.1. Signed by Rose. Abt VF, lightly aged, far less than the usual foxing. Coupons November 1864 on. ($400-Up)

An extraordinary piece in both quality and number, worthy of a premium price.

Rarely Seen Cr. 113 Bond

1035 Act of April 12, 1862. $250. (Cr.113, B-149) No.48. VF, mildly aged, three vertical folds, nice for type. ($4000-Up)

Signed by Tyler. There were 171 bonds emitted of which only 133 were left outstanding in 1865. The $250 denomination was the most common, there being 48 issued. Still a very tough bond with only about a dozen known including those in institutions. The last time we sold this bond, three years ago, it brought $7,700, including buyers charge.

Act of January 29, 1863 and Related Cotton Certificates

Historic and Excessively Rare Cotton Certificate Pair

Bonieberate States of Rmeri

81000 BOND.

Excessively Rare Cotton Certificate Pair. [2] ($10,000-Up) 1) $1000. (Cr.114, B-150). No.998. EF, POC. 2) $1000. Cr.115, B-151). No.1003. EF, POC. Both signed by Tyler.

The history of these certificates for those who may not know it is as follows. During 1861 and 1862, the Confederates, thanks to the blockade and the failure of Secretary Memminger to take steps to run ships through it or to use his authority under the Act of May 16, 1861 to negotiate a foreign loan, ran out of foreign exchange with which to make urgent purchases of weapons and supplies in Europe. As the Confederacy had purchased or received thousands of bales of cotton, it was proposed to use these certificates as collateral by pledging them in Europe in exchange for a loan. These certificates were prepared, and promised to pay 20 bales of cotton at 5 pence sterling per pound up to six months after peace between the Confederate States and the United States. If the cotton was not claimed by then, these certificates became mere $1000 bonds bearing 6% interest.

The price at which the cotton was offered was about 11 cents per pound, when the market rate was nearly twice that sum. It was hoped that the profit that would come from such a purchase would be an incentive for the British and French to lend the treasury about $1,5 million.

Accordingly, 1000 certificates payable at the Gulf ports of New Orleans and Mobile (Cr.114, B-150) and another 500 certificates payable at Charleston and Savannah (Cr.115, B-151), were prepared and shipped to Europe. But James Spence, who was supposed to sell them, failed to do so, and the Erlanger Loan (whose bonds follow) intervened and the certificates were never sold. Subsequently, they lay in the Erlanger Bank archives until four pairs were sold to Mr. Ford in the 1950's. Two other pairs, one unissued and part of a correspondence between President Davis and the Confederate Senate, and the other with one remainder and one issued piece also exist. The rest were destroyed around 1964, when the Erlanger Bank was sold and its records largely disposed of.

Smythe or its old auction subdivision, NASCA, has sold every one of the surviving bond pairs either by private treaty or at public auction, between 1984 and the present. Most recently, the pair illustrated in the Criswell book, Nos.997 and 1004 were offered in our January 1997 Strasburg Auction and sold for $15,000 plus buyers charge. We believe that these great rarities, the finest known, should do equally well.

Signed as the preceding except that the first 50 or so bonds have the autograph signature of Charles Walsh Jr. on each and every coupon. To save work, the signatures, except on the last coupon to mature, were all printed thereafter. And since the printing of the bonds evidently began with the £1000 denomination, this variety appears on no other bond of this series.

We know of only five bonds of this variety, one in an Institutional Collection.

This bond was part of an issue of 813 bonds, numbers 19-831, which were issued as part of the 1864 act and not that of 1863. The first of these discovered was the Paul Garland piece which was sold as part of the Ball collection in 1987. Another piece was discovered in 1988 along with twenty other pieces in the London Hoard sold in November 1987. None of the $100 or $500 bonds have been found as of now, although the amounts issued were over fifty of each. This bond appeared as lot 287 of our March 1988 sale, where it brought $687.50.

Some 37 pieces of this denomination were issued. Altogether 1620 are listed as having been issued of this type, but the survival rate among the registered bonds had been very much lower than among the coupon bonds of the same act. Thus while slightly over 100 are suspected to exist, some are in institutions and others are very closely held by collectors so that the appearances during the last decade show less than 20 odd reported sales.

Lovely Proof Cr. 137 Call Certificate

Act of March 23, 1863. $5,000. (Cr.137, B-276). Proof on card. Abt VF, six folds, full stub at left.

A great rarity in the Confederate Bond scries. To date, only two proofs and four specimen certificates have surfaced. The official rccords of the Confederate Treasury state that all the issued certificates were redeemed and subsequently destroyed. This piece is not as fine as the Jackson proof, which was sold in the Ball collection by us in 1987; it is better than at least two of the specimens, one the falsely filled in Criswell plate piece and the other a damaged item in private hands. It is cleaner than a recently discovered specimen sold by us by private treaty in 1996 for $6,000. We have not seen the remaining picce.

Act of April 30, 1863 A Pair of Hand Drawn Essai Bonds

Act of April 30, 1863 $1000. (B-280). Hand drawn Essaí on two glued together pieces of blue woven paper, with written text and coupons. VF, fold splits. Ex lot 221 in our Sale No.66, September 1987, where it brought only $283.75. ($1000-Up)

This item was composed in the Treasury Department by a clerk as a draft of what was to be sent to Evans & Cogswell. However, the actual bond is different from this and the succeeding draft. Note the proviso squeezed in at the bottom of the bond text about the bond having value until validated by the Confederate depositary in Great Britain. Evidently, it was hoped to sell some of these bonds in Britain to augment the Erlanger loan but nothing was ever done about it. The bonds were never paid in coin or cotton as promised, an action anticipated by many who refused to buy them, despite the nominal allure of payment promised in cotton at less than 25% of its current market value.

Act of April 30, 1863. $1000. (B-281). Hand drawn Essai on two pieces of blue laid paper one watermarked "T & FH Superfine 1862," a British paper. Abt VF, holed, split. Ex lot 221 our 1987 Sale 67, where it brought $283.73.

($1000-Up)

Somewhat similar to the preceding lot except the cities where payable are changed around and the British validation clause is normally spaced, indicating that it was not an after thought. Hand drafted bonds such as this were common not only among those selling debt, but also a common practice at American Bank Note Company and other related firms.

Only one of these bonds was known in 1987, when the Ball sale was held. Subsequently, 20 more turned up in the London Coutts Bank hoard. This bond also turned up, making twenty-two all told. Bonds were supposedly issued from numbers 19 to 831, the bonds being left over from the extremely rare 1863 issue.

Please Note that a 10% buyer's premium will be added to each lot purchased.

Act of February 17, 1864. Call Certificate. No denomination. (Cr.160, B-353). Remainder. VF, light water staining, a bottom split repaired with mending tape. ($400-Up)

Here again a form was prepared but not used, why is unknown. Probably this and the George Dunn certificate were not prepared in time and Secretary Trenholm may have wished to avoid the tedious and time consuming work of having the denominations filled in.

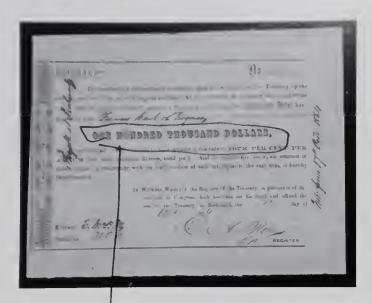

1072 Act of February 17, 1864. Call Certificate. $100. (Cr.162, B-342). No.114 of only 200 reportedly issued. Nominally VF, but back hinges, staining, paper deterioration in the right side and bottom margins with a tear at right. ($450-Up)

Signed by Tyler. This certificate is excessively rare issued. This is the only one known. There are also less than ten remainders thus far accounted for.

The $100 certificates in the text under the denomination end with "FOUR PER CENT. PER". The odd and even varieties can barely be distinguished by a slight variance in the width of the printed denomination.

Signed by Clitherall, coupons from September 1, 1862, when coin payments were suspended. Abt VF, stamp hinges on splits on the back, a punch hole bottom left, an ink corrosion hole. 5) $500. (Cr.7A, B-6). No.4302. Signed by Tyler. Coupons from September 1, 1863. VF, edge split, fold soiling. 6) $1000. (Cr.8, B-7). No.2357. Signed by Clitherall. EF, two punch holes top left in margin.

5002 Act of February 28, 1861. $500. (Cr.7, B-5). No.3512. Entered and recorded by Capers and Jones, but no Register or Acting Register signature. VF, three extra coupons, a punch hole in the left top margin. ($150-Up)

This bond was clearly properly issued, but from the numbering range was apparently intended to be signed by Clitherall, who did not sign, nor did Jones, by oversight.

5003 Act of February 28, 1861. $1000 (Cr.8, B-7). Nos. 2360-2364. All with coupons from September 1, 1862. Signed by Clitherall. VF, two punch holes left top margin. [5] ($190-Up)

5006 Act of May 16, 1861. $300. (Cr.14, B-27). No.1278. signed by Tyler. VF, some ink spattering around the signature. ($100-Up)Payable March 3, 1863 to William D. Nutt, the Confederate Treasurer from October 1, 1864 until the end of the War.

Act of May 16, 1861. $500. (Cr.14, B-27). No.1277. Signed by Tyler. VF, a faint imprint. ($100-Up)

5008 Act of May 16, 1861. $1000. (Cr.14, B-27). No.1320. Signed by Jones. Abt VF, folded several times. Very clean. Made payable to the Richmond & Petersburg RR. Such bonds and those which follow were not always the result of surplus funds in the railroad treasury, although this occurred increasingly from the end of 1862 onwards. Such evidences of debt often arose from the fact that the railroad had provided the government with transportation services for the movement of troops or supplies to the front.

5009 Act of May 16, 1861. $21,000. (Cr.14, B-27). No.1304. Signed by Jones. Abt VF, edge chinks. ($125-Up) bonds issued of this denomination. Moreover, only 62 items of this type were issued in higher than the $10,000 denomination, out of 1813 pieces reportedly issued.

5011 Act of May 16, 1861. $500, in red ink on counters. (Cr.15, B-26). No.510. Signed twice by Tyler. VF, mildly aged, first signature smeared, ink stains on the back. Well margined.

Payable to William D. Nutt, later (October 1, 1864 to April 1, 1865) the Confederate Treasurer. The paper of the Hoyer and Ludwig bonds was acidic and locally made; Paterson apparently used English bank note paper.

5012 Act of May 16, 1861. $500, in red ink on counters. (Cr.15, B-26). No. 537. Signed by Tyler. VF, usual mild aging. ($150-Up)

Payable to William D. Nutt as the preceding.

Act of May 16, 1861. $5,000. (Cr.15, B-26). No. 235. Signed by Jones. VF, paper aging, trimmed close to the borders.

Payable to the Bank of South Carolina. Note the back endorsement converting this bond into notes with interest. Under the Act of May 16, 1861, these bonds were in effect call certificates until July 25, 1863, by which time they had to be converted back into money or held as a bond until maturity. An unusual example of such a conversion.

($125-Up)

Signed by Tyler, and issued on January 1, 1863, to B.C. Pressley, the Assistant Treasurer at Charleston, South Carolina. On March 10, 1863, this call certificate was made payable to John 1. Steinmeyer in notes fundable into 8% stocks and bonds. Under the Act of October 13, 1862 and Secretary Memminger's notice of October 22, 1862, those wishing to fund in 8% bonds had to buy them not later than April 22, 1863. Thus while this call certificate was supposed to run 90 days after March 10, 1863, the owner turned it in on April 16, 1863 to fund the notes into bonds.

> This bond, which would otherwise be part of the April 12, 1862 bonds, was issued in accord with the act of Congress dated April 27, 1863. A contractor had been promised payment in the April 12, 1862 bonds, but Secretary Memminger on some legal quibble or the other, refused to issue such bonds to him. The Congress overruled the Secretary requiring that a $100 bond and 18 $500 bonds, numbers 381 and 5543-5560 should be issued to discharge this $9100 obligation. The Treasury took its time in issuing the bonds, hence the coupon for over 2 years' interest issued here. All the bonds survived in the London hoard. This is certainly one of the nicer pieces.

1863 Bond Reused in 1864

Act of March 23, 1863 Reused Act of February 17, 1864. $1000. (Cr.130C, B-375). No.14774, signed by Rose. VF. ($200-Up)

In order to meet special contract and other needs, the Confederate Treasury drew from its stock of left over 6% and 4% bonds from the Act of March 23, 1863, to cover its obligations for the Act of February 17, 1864. Very few $100 and $500 bonds (only 55 and 53 respectively are reported in Thian) were issued, but 767 of the $1000 bonds were used, numbers 14280 to 15046. Very few of these have been seen to date. This is one of them. They can only be differentiated from the 1863 issues by their numbers, which directly follow the number sequences used on the 1863 bonds. As stated, they were of the same bond variety as the last of those used for the 1863 issues.

Confederate Counterfeit Bonds

- Act of August 19, 1861 Coupon Bond. $100. (Cr.x34, B-C72). No.1797. Signed by "Tyler". VF. ($30-Up)

 As noted in the upcoming book, it would appear that all or practically all of the counterfeits of Confederate bonds were made years after the war in Europe to fool gullible British investors. They have nothing to do with the Confederacy per se, but are interesting souvenirs of the postwar bond mania in Britain. This particular bond has turned up in the National Archives Confederate bond holdings and may therefore be a contemporaneous product of rascally Yankees.
- Act of August 19, 1861. $1000. (Cr.85, B-62). No.2510. "Tyler" signature. VF. ($60-Up)

 Note the poor quality of the signature and the fact that the first coupon only appears on January 1, 1866. Found in the London hoard. Rare.
- 5194 Act of August 19, 1861. $1000. (Cr.85, B-62). No.1753. "Tyler" signature. VF. ($60-Up)

 Same comments as the preceding lot.
- Act of August 19, 1861. $1000. (Cr.97. B-C115). No.21618, good "Tyler" forgery. F-VF, taped splits at the top, edge chinks and pieces missing in the left and right margins, a Dutch blue stamp on the back.

A very dangerous bond, except for its overly high number, one that even fooled Criswell, who put a counterfeit in as the illustration for this piece.

- Act of February 20, 1863. $1000. (Cr.X125, B-C199). No.2900. Printed Rose signature. Fine, crude, aged, list of items on the back, left edge stains.

 ($75-Up)

 Possibly another contemporaneous bond, seldom seen and only in this country. Not in the London bond hoard.
- Act of February 20, 1863. $1000. (Cr.122B, 122C, B-C238A, 238B). Nos. 4994, 5670. "Taylor" not "Tyler" signature. VF, the usual aging, splits and discoloration of washed seals. [2] ($50-Up) These are the "Second" and "Third" series bonds made in the Netherlands to the amount of $10 million but mostly destroyed in the handling of the London hoard.
- 5198 Act of February 20, 1863. $1000. (Cr.122B, 122C, B-C238A, 238B). Nos.4996, 5589. "Taylor" signature. VF, some light water staining, discolorations, a few splits. [2] ($50-Up)
- Act of February 20, 1863. $1000. (Cr.XXI, B-Fantasy). Not numbered or signed. VF, fold soiling. ($150-Up)

 The falsity of this bond is evident since the first coupon is only dated July 1, 1865, months after the Confederacy had collapsed.
- 5200 Confederate Counterfeit Bonds. [7] ($180-Up)
 1) $100. (Cr.34, B-C72). Complete remainder, first coupon July 1, 1862. VF. 2-7) $1000. (Cr.122B, B-C122B). Nos. 4988, 4989, 4990, 4991, 4992, 4993. "Taylor" signature. VF, aging, some splits or chinks, premium grade for bond.
